MARCH - APRIL 2025

FROM THE EAST

Brothers, in the wake of our installation, the new Symposium lecture series, and our increased involvement in the community, I see that our lodge has started making waves around town and within the general community of Freemasons itself.

I was recently at an Installation of Officers in Long Beach, and I was approached by several people who heard about the Symposium series and are interested in attending. We've also seen the return of brothers who have been out of the lodge for years, and we're seeing new potential Masons at our pub nights. These are all good signs for our lodge, and I'm thankful to the various officers and members who have made that possible. People like Cleveland Palmer for his work on gathering Symposium lecturers, and a newly initiated brother named Erick Ojeda who has been instrumental in our community engagement program.

Speaking of community engagement, I've recently done a funny thing to get our lodge even more attention. I am running to be the Honorary Mayor of San Pedro. Despite the name, this is not a political position. The Honorary Mayor Campaign is a San Pedro Chamber of Commerce program. Since we are members of the Chamber, every two years we and other San Pedrans are invited to participate in the program. Whoever raises the most money for a nonprofit or two of their choosing by mid-June becomes the Honorary Mayor of San Pedro. It's honorary because San Pedro is a part of the City of Los Angeles, and the actual mayor is someone else (currently Karen Bass). If you're interested in supporting us in this endeavor, I'd love to have you as part of the team to make this a successful campaign. Win or lose, this is bound to be helpful in raising our lodge's prestige within the community.

The two nonprofits that I've chosen to be the beneficiaries of the campaign are the USS IOWA and Labor Community Services - Los Angeles. The former is the famous World War 2 battleship which is now the Surface Fleet Museum of the Navy, and the latter assists union workers and their families, and which has hosted several food distributions in San Pedro. We will be hosting numerous fundraisers and events in the community.

As always, be safe, have fun out there, and I'll see you at the lodge!

Fraternally,

Andrew Perry, P.M.
Worshipful Master

THE HOURGLASS AND THE SANDS OF TIME

An hourglass is an early device used to track measures of time, such as an hour or minute. It became popular in the 15th century for its dependability, finding regular use on ships, in kitchens, and in churches.

While today the hourglass is not as popular for time telling as clocks, its literal depiction of the past, present, and future have helped it endure the centuries as a popular symbol. Often depicted with wings, it represents humanity’s fleeting nature, emphasizing that time will run out for everyone. Over time the hourglass has been etched on everything from coffins to the flags of pirate ships and has even been used in animations on popular TV shows.

Freemasons first encounter the Hourglass during the lecture of the third degree, where it is explained as an emblem of human life. It represents the continuous passing of time and serves as a reminder that life is finite. Additionally, the two containers of the hourglass are an analogy on their own: that the need to flip the hourglass signifies the cycle between life and death. It also denotes the notion that we must be able to reverse our perceptions, attitudes, and actions at times for us to move forward.

The completion of the Master Mason degree is almost certainly not a Brother’s first experience with an hourglass, symbolically or otherwise. What makes the Hourglass unique in how it is employed in Freemasonry is the challenge it poses to members. As with all the symbols and lessons taught in our fraternity, the Hourglass is meant to encourage Freemasons to live a full life and make the most of our time. It is a reminder to work for a life of compassion, honesty, and integrity so that we may improve not only our own lives but those in our community as well.
